FLOWTECH FLUIDPOWER PLC

Silver award winner for the Group's online Annual Report

AIM listed Specialist technical fluid power products supplier Flowtech Fluidpower PLC (AIM: FLO), has been recognised at the prestigious 2017 Corporate & Finance Awards, receiving a Silver Winner for its 2017 Annual Report in the 'Best online report: AIM/small cap' category. <http://www.flowtechfluidpower.com>.

The Corporate & Finance Awards, in its sixth year was held at The Brewery, Central London and hosted by BBC's Sophie Raworth, the showcase event recognises excellence in all aspects of City and financial communications for companies across a broad range of sectors, from the FTSE100 to small cap across its 22 award categories. It also provides recognition for the investment made by the companies' teams who focus on developing and compiling the best profile of their business to enable investors, both existing and potential, as well as commentators to gain a concise understanding of the workings of a business, its culture and strategy.

The Annual Report is the main benchmark for companies' communication with the City investment community and their associated stakeholders. The Best online report: AIM/small cap category award is given to companies that can demonstrate that it has taken the printed report to the next level, using advanced technology to successfully communicate content to its audience and demonstrate how the report has developed since its previous edition covering areas such as its corporate reporting, financial publications or corporate social responsibility report.

Receiving the coveted Silver award on behalf of Flowtech Group was, Helen Barratt, Head of Corporate Governance, she commented:

"Over the last three years we have evolved our publication to deliver a continuously improving quality product so on behalf of everyone involved I am delighted to collect this award and to be recognised by external professionals for the work we put into the annual publication and the communication with the investment community."

"We take the opportunity to also thank corporate communications specialists, Jones and Palmer who over the last four years have worked with us on our digital reporting, introducing dynamic concepts that have helped us to portray and evolve our corporate objectives and brand strongly within the investor community."

Since joining AIM in 2014 the Flowtech Group has expanded its portfolio extensively across existing and new product categories; completed eleven acquisitions and established three, clearly-focussed divisions: Flowtechnology, Power Motion Control and Process. Today it employs 400 people across the UK, Eire and Europe.
